

THE NAVY

The Herald's Register for the Year 1872

Names of All Officers on the Active List and Retired Officers on Duty.

Complete Register of the Warrant Officers in the Service.

Record of Our Naval Vessels, In and Out of Commission.

Their Names, Classification, Arma- ment and Where Stationed.

The official Navy Register for 1872 will not be ready for publication for some time—probably not before the middle of March. As there is an increasing interest in all matters pertaining to the navy, we present our readers with a complete register of all officers on the active list, of retired officers on duty, and of all our naval vessels, both in and out of commission. This register has been carefully prepared, and will be found essentially correct and useful for reference.

HOW THE OFFICERS ARE EMPLOYED.

There are 1,424 commissioned officers and 185 warrant officers on the active list, who are employed as follows:—

Commissioned.	Warrant.
On duty at sea.....	637
On duty ashore.....	484
In port or ports and unemployable.....	61
On leave of absence.....	26
On sick leave.....	26
Total.....	1,424

DISTRIBUTION OF VESSELS.

The 178 vessels, nominally mounting 1,426 guns, are thus disposed of, as shown in detail in the table hereto:

Thirty-six vessels, comprising 393 guns, are at foreign stations or cruising, including the Guerriere (21) and Plymouth (12), ordered home from Europe, and the Polaris, exploring the Arctic regions. One (Michigan, 8) is in winter quarters on Lake Erie. Eight, carrying 103 guns, are used as practice and school ships. Seven (99 guns) are used as receiving ships and one (10) as marine barracks at Pensacola. Seventeen unarmed vessels are in use at the various navy yards and home stations. Twenty-six vessels, with 205 guns, are repairing, refitting, &c., including the Canadas (10), ready for sea; the Worcester (10), Iroquois (6), Wyoming (6), Canonicus (2), and Mahopac (2)—the two latter iron-clads, under orders for service. The remainder are not in use; four (61 guns), being out of commission; fourteen (130 guns), in ordinary; forty-nine (204 guns), laid up; thirteen (93 guns), unnnished; one (23 guns), sunk, and one (disarmed), condemned.

Richard W. Meade, Jr., commanding Narragansett.

Charles G. Carpenter, commanding Nantasket.

William A. Kirkland, Montevideo, S. A.

William H. Davis, waiting orders.

Edward E. Porter, commanding Shawmut.

Richard E. Bowditch, waiting orders.

Thomas G. Stebbins, Light-house Inspector.

Joseph N. Miller, Chief of Staff Southern squadron, Pacific fleet.

Alfred Hopkins, waiting orders.

Montgomery Sicard, member Admiral Taylor's Board.

Edmund O. Matthews, in charge of Torpedo Corps.

Edward P. Lutze, Bureau Yards and Docks.

A. C. Anderson, F. Crosmas, temporary command of Marion.

Charles S. Norton, waiting orders.

Robert L. Phelan, Chief of Staff North Pacific Squadron.

John R. Coake, Naval Academy.

Le Roy Fitch, Navy Yard, Pensacola.

Rush R. Wallace, commanding Aspinot.

Chester H. Atfield, commanding Kasius.

Charles J. McLoughlin, Naval Rendezvous, San Francisco.

* George H. Perkins, waiting orders.

Robert Boyd, Jr., Lighthouse Inspector.

John N. Quackenbush, commanding Wasp.

Thomas D. Eastman, equipment duty Washington.

Weld N. Allen, waiting orders.

Nathaniel Green, commanding Resaca.

Lieutenant Commanders.

Edward Terry, commanding Saco.

Francis M. Bunce, sick leave.

Byrnes Willson, Norfolk Navy Yard.

Henry B. Seely, under suspension.

Frederick V. Menard, Naval Academy.

Albert S. Bowditch, commanding Onward.

Henry L. Bowditch, Naval Academy.

Albert S. Knott, Navy Yard, Boston.

Alfred T. Mahan, Hydrographic Office.

John M. Jones, Hydrographic Office.

Norman H. Farquhar, ordnance duty, Boston.

Samuel Phillips Lee, commanding North Atlantic Fleet.

Charles S. Boggs, returning to United States.

Thomas A. Jenkins, Secretary of the Navy Board.

William Rodgers, Taylor, President of board for witnessing examination of officers now under instruction in use of manufacture of torpedoes.

Benjamin F. Sands, Superintendent Naval Observatory.

Charles Steedman, Commandant Navy Yard, San Francisco.

James Aiken, commanding European Fleet.

Commanders.

Alfred Taylor, Lighthouse Inspector.

Joseph F. Green, waiting orders.

Augustus L. Cope, Chief Bureau of Ordnance.

Alexander M. Pennock, Commandant Navy Yard, Pensacola.

Edward Johnston, Commandant Navy Yard Pensacola.

Gustavus H. Scott, waiting orders.

David McDougal, commanding south Squadron, Pacific fleet.

John J. Almy, Chief Signal Officer.

Jacob H. Strong, Light-house Inspector.

Enoch G. Parrott, Commandant Navy Yard, Mare Island.

William Reynolds, Chief Bureau Equipment and Recruiting.

Father Michael, Light-house Inspector.

William H. Macomb, Light-house Inspector.

Robert W. Winslow, in charge of Hydrographic Office.

George B. Batch, Navy Yard Washington.

Foxhall A. Parker, member of Admirals' Taylor's Board.

John Guest, waiting orders.

Donald McF. Fairfax, Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.

John B. C. Chitt, commanding California.

Albert S. Bowditch, commanding Brooklyn.

James H. Adams, commanding St. Lawrence.

J. W. A. Nicholson, commanding Lancaster.

Thomas G. Corbin, waiting orders.

Louis C. Harton, commanding naval rendezvous, San Francisco.

James F. Armstrong, Executive Officer, Mare Island.

William Ronckendorff, in charge of iron-clads at New Orleans.

George W. French, commanding naval rendezvous, Boston.

Egypt Thompson, commanding Canadas.

George H. Scott, Navy Yard, Norfolk.

Charles H. Caldwell, commanding Worcester.

Henry C. Adams, commanding Congress.

John C. Strong, special duty.

Perce Crosby, Navy Yard, Philadelphia.

Richard J. Renshaw, Light-house Inspector.

J. Blakely Vaughan, ordered to command Guerriere.

Aaron K. Hughes, waiting orders.

Edmund R. Colborn, Executive Officer Boston Navy Yard.

Charles H. Baldwin, commanding Colorado.

Robert W. Shands, commanding Wabash.

Albert C. Knott, on leave, Europe.

George M. Hanson, Navy Yard, New York.

William F. Speer, Equipment Officer, Navy Yard, Boston.

Somerville Nicholson, special duty, Washington.

William C. Hopkins, Navy Yard, Mare Island, California.

Pauline J. Sturtevant, waiting orders.

Charles H. Grimes, Naval Academy.

S. P. Quackenbush, ordered to command Terror.

Earl English, special duty.

H. N. T. Arnold, furlough.

George W. French, waiting orders.

John H. Lowry, waiting orders.

William W. Low, commanding Mexican.

John H. Upshur, special duty, New London.

Francis A. How, waiting orders.

James S. Thornton, naval duty, Portsmouth.

Thomas P. Keeler, commanding.

Charles H. Smith, commanding.

John H. Upshur, special duty, Europe.

William G. Tempio, Chief of Staff, European fleet.

Samuel F. Carter, Commandant Misshippum, Naval Academy.

Thomas S. Phelps, commanding Saranac.

John L. Doty, commanding receiving ship Onward.

Edward Barrett, navigation duty, New York.

Horace C. Blake, commanding Alaska.

Charles H. Wells, commanding Shenandoah.

S. P. Quackenbush, ordered to command Terror.

Earl English, special duty.

John C. Strong, special duty.